Studies show that approximately 50% of healthcare professionals report experiencing burnout, with even higher rates among nurses and other clinical staff. Overalls LifeConcierge™ service handles personal tasks, freeing healthcare professionals to focus on patient care. By managing everyday life hassles, Overalls helps maximize productivity, improve retention, and boost morale.

17% of workforce productivity is lost due to life's hassles. Think home repairs, finding childcare, health navigation, scheduling appointments or whatever else life throws your way.
